Diagnostic truck does year-round services for free

BY IRINEO "BONG" ALVARO JR., BBIF CHAIRMAN

A SMALL bamboo cart filled with canned goods, fresh vegetables and other food items was set up by a kind-hearted lady in Maginhawa Street in Quezon City who hails from Angeles City, Pampanga. In a cardboard was written: "Community Pantry. Kumuha batay sa pangan-gailangan. Magbigay batay sa kakayanan."

In only a few days, many other community pantries sprung up in many parts of Metro Manila, and here in Pampanga. And all over the country, community pantries mushroomed that provided people whose livelihoods were affected by the pandemic with a lifeline, even if for only a meal. Suddenly, the spirit of bayanihan was alive, people helping each other.

Today - inspired by the resurgence of the bayanihan spirit among our people - here in Barangay Turu, the farthest and an almost isolated barangay of Magalang, Pampanga, the Bridges of Benevolent Initiatives

Pampanga posts P80.8-M quarry revenues in March

CITY OF SAN FERNANDO — The Pampanga provincial government recorded its highest quarry revenue in a month last March at PP80,830,500 million, exceeding the previous highest monthly collection of P72.8 million last February.

The March 2021 collection raised to P1.118 billion the total revenues earned so far in the 20 months of the administration of Gov. Dennis "Delta" Pineda, according to Atty. Charlie Chua, provincial administrator.

Capitol collects a P150-sand tax, P250-administrative fee, P30-weighting scale fee, fees for sand and gravel permit, motor vehicle and heavy equipment accreditation including fines and penalties.

Chua said the provincial government's share of 30 percent from the P150-sand tax was put in the provincial coffers to support programs in managing the Covid-19 pandemic and in implementing regular programs in health, education, agriculture, livelihood, environment and infrastructure.

BY ARMAND M. GALANG

CABANATUAN CITY — The construction of the P1.34-billion vital agriculture infrastructure that aims to increase rice productivity in Lupao, Nueva Ecija has reached an actual accomplishment of 46.69 percent at the end of first quarter of 2021, or 35.89 percent ahead of its 10.80 percent on the bar schedule amid the pandemic, the National Irrigation Administration reported on Sunday.

Engr. Rosalinda Bote, department manager of the NIA-Upper Pampanga River Integrated Irrigation System said the construction of Balbalungao Small Reservoir Irrigation Project (SRIP) is now entering the "critical curve stage", such as installation of steel forms and concrete pouring at spillway structure, water pressure test, drilling and grouting at the dam core trench.

It also includes laying of gravel blanket and boulder riprap at permanent cofferdam, excavation works at diversion conduit, fabrication and installation of conduit pipes, and construction of rock toe, she added.

Implemented by NIA-UPRIIS Division I, Balbalungao SRIP which an earthfill dam is one of the lined projects that aims to boost the campaign for rice competitiveness and increase income of local farmers of NIA under administrator Ricardo Visaya, said Bote.

Expected to be completed by November 2023, Balbalungao SRIP was designed to provide irrigation to 967.19 hectares in the villages of Balbalungao, San Isidro, Salvacion, Sto. Nino, and Mapampang. At its current stage, however, the dam already irrigates 370 hectares of farmlands in San Isidro and Balbalungao, the NIA-UPRIIS reported.

Parallel to the dam construction is the development of a 60-hectare watershed area within the reservoir that is programmed for rehabilitation out of the total 998-hectare watershed, according to division manager Felix Teano, Jr.

SBMA chair and administrator Wilma T. Eisma said income from the SBMA Port Authority Group amounting to P374.54 million shored up the agency's operating revenue by P60 million, thus creating a positive balance even as four other strategic business units (SBUs) recorded decreases in revenue.

"The good news was that the SBMA Seaport managed a 25 percent increase in port revenue because of a 10 percent increase in the volume of containerized cargo," Eisma noted.

"The pandemic might have caused losses to some of our units, but others—like our core business, which is the sea port—are coming out as winners," she added.

Among the SBMA SBUs that recorded revenue loses is the Business and Investment Group (BIG), a report from the SBMA Financial Planning and Budget Department (FPBD) indicated. BIG's operating revenue dropped from P373.69 million in the first quarter of 2020 (Q1 2020) to P3 P371.89 million in Q1 2021, or a decrease of P1.8 million (0.48%).

Meanwhile, the Regulatory Group also posted losses, with P22.34 million in Q1 2020 to P8.39 million in Q1 2021, or a decrease of P13.95 million (62.44%); Chairman and Administrator's Group, from P5.57 million in Q1 2020 to P1.77 million in Q1 2021, or a decrease of P3.8 million (68.28%); and Support Services Group, from P7.63 million in Q1 2020 to P5.92 million in Q1 2021, or a decrease of P1.71 million (22.43%).

The only other group that recorded an increase in operating revenue was the Public Services Group, which posted P56.87 million in Q1 2021, or an increase of P2 million (3.64%) from P54.87 million in Q1 2020.

The SBMA FPBD also said that the agency's earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA), which measures profitability and earnings potential, increased by 8.41 percent from P36.84 million in the first quarter last year to P474.8 million this year.

Meanwhile, the agency's operating ex-

To (ii) order the Local Civil Registrar of Calapan City Oriental Mindoro and the Civil Registrar of the Philippine Statistics Authority to cancel on their respective file/record/data base the Certificate of Live Birth of Celine Mangune Flueck with LRC No. 2012-2412 for being mere superfluity.

Petitioner Gemalyn Mangune (" Gemalyn ", for brevity) alleges, among others, that she met P-etitioner Peter Flueck (" Peter ", for brevity), a Swiss National, on March 2006 and thereafter became sweethearts. They continued with their relationship through long distance communication; on February 15, 2007, Peter arrived in the Philippines and lived with her until his departure for Switzerland on April 26, 2007. Thereafter, she got pregnant without Peter knowing about her pregnancy as she lost touch with him.

Gemalyn further claims that she then met Julio Americo Torres ("Julio", for brevity) sometime in November 2007, during the time that she was already on her eight-month of pregnancy. Julio, knowing of Gemalyn's situation, offered to be the father of her unborn child. Subsequently, Gemalyn gave birth to a baby girl on December 24, 2007 through "hilot" delivery at their residence at 58-B New York St., Villasol Subd., Angeles City wherein the child was named JAYCILINE MANGUNE TORRES, as the acknowledged child of Julio Americo Torres. The arrangement, simulating the birth certificate of JAYCILINE MANGUNE TORRES, was then registered with Respondent Local Civil Registry of Angeles City per Certificate of Live Birth of Jaycline Mangune Torres with LRC Registry No. 2008-13. Unfortunately, she and Julio Torres parted ways shortly thereafter.

In a sudden twist of fate, according to the Petitioner, she and Peter met again sometime in the early part of 2010. It was then that Peter came to know about his love child with her; and, thereafter started supporting his child financially and came to visit Philippines more often to be together with his daughter.

With the desire to straighten the fact of birth of her child, Gemalyn avers that, she advised, despite erroneous, to cause the late registration of the fact of birth of her child in Calapan City, Oriental Mindoro on May 30, 2012 through the help of her aunt, Teresita Frianza Ragot, who is from the said place. Consequently, the child previously named as "JAYCILINE MANGUNE TORRES" whose registered father was JULIO AMERICO TORRES was registered again as "CELINE MANGUNE FLUECK" with Peter Flueck as now his registered father, per Certificate of Live Birth of CELINE MANGUNE FLUECK with LCR REGISTRY No. 2012-2412.

As a consequence, the second Certificate of Live Birth of CELINE MANGUNE FLUECK registered in Calapan City, Oriental Mindoro under LCR Registry No. 2012-2412 was used and presented before school authorities when Celine Mangune Flueck (a.k.a Jaycline Mangune Torres) started to go to school in the year 2012 up to present time. In addition, Gemalyn emphasized that, Celine Mangune Flueck, from age of reason, had been using the same Celine Mangune Flueck and has been known and called by such name by her family and friends and never did she use the name Jaycline Mangune Torres nor have known such name not until a Petition for correction of Entries was filed by his biological father, Peter Flueck in 2018.

Furthermore, Gemalyn asserts that, sometime in November 2015, Peter was diagnosed with a medical condition known as BLACK SKIN CANCER. He had undergone Immune Therapy from 2016 to 2018 and was cleared from cancer in 2019. Having suffered from a dreadful disease, he thought of bringing her daughter CELINE MANGUNE FLUECK in Switzerland and be together with his three (3) other children from Peter's first wife Naomi Arucan, namely: Adrian, Myrna and Hans Peter. It was during this period that Peter suggested to Gemalyn to file a Petition for the Establishment of Filiation of CELINE MANGUNE FLUECK before the Regional Trial Court, Family Court, Branch 45, City of San Fernando, Pampanga wherein illegitimate child of therein Respondent Peter Flueck docketed as FC SP. PROC. No. 650.

Peter, with his desire of dringing her daughter CELINE MANGUNE FLUECK to Switzerland, was faced with another dilemma when the Swiss Government questioned the existence of two (2) Certificate of Live Birth, one under the name of JAYCILINE MANGUNE TORRES and the other, under the name of CENILE MANGUNE FLUECK. Thus, he was constrained to file a Petition for Correction of Entries on the Certificate of Live Birth of minor JAYCILINE MANGUNE TORRES under LCR Registry No. 2008-113, which was then filed and raffle before the Regional Trial Court, Branch 60, Angeles City docketed as R-ANG-18-03465-SP. Regrettably, a Decision was rendered on August 10, 2020 dismissing the said petition.

Finally, the Petitioners seek, in order to straighten the record of the fact of birth of CELINE MANGUNE FLUECK and in order to avoid further confusion for the correction/change of the registered name JAYCILINE MANGUNE TORRES to CELINE MANGUNE FLUECK, the Name of Father from JULIO AMERICO TORRES to PETER FLUECK, the Citizenship of Father from AUSTRALIAN to SWISS, the Religion of Father from CATHOLIC to (Evangelisch-reformiert) (sic) PROTESTANT, the Occupation of the Father from STEEL WORKER to NONE and Age of Father at the time of birth from 43 to 62 as reflected in the simulated Certificate of Live Birth of Jaycline Mangune Torres under LCR Registry No. 2008-113, in accordance with Rule 108 of Court. Moreover, Peter, in order to prove that Celine Mangune Flueck is his biological daughter, had undergone DFA Test, the result of which yielded to a 99.99% of his filiation to CELINE MANGUNE FLUECK and not Julio Americo Torres as reflected in the aforesaid simulated Certificate of Live Birth of Jaycline Mangune Torres under LCR Registry No.2008-113.

Finding the Petition to be sufficient in from and substance, the court hereby sets the case for hearing on June 25, 2021 at 8:30 o'clock in the morning. Any person interested in this Petition is hereby ordered to appear on said date and time before this court and to show cause, if any, why the Petition should not be granted. The next setting thereafter shall be on July 16, 2021 at 8:30 o'clock in the morning.

The petitioner is hereby ordered to cause the publication of this Order once a week for three (3) consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the Province of Pampanga and Angeles City in accordance with P.D. 1702 before the date of hearing, at the expense of petitioner.

Petitioner is likewise ordered to serve copies of the Petition and its annexes upon the Office of the Solicitor General, the Philippine Statistics Authority, City Civil Registrar of Calapan City, Oriental Mindoro, and the City Civil Registrar of Angeles City, within seventy-two (72) hours from receipt of this Order and to submit compliance thereof.

The Office of the Solicitor General is hereby directed to enter its appearance in this case for the State within seventy-two (72) hours from receipt of this Order.

Let copies of this Order be furnished to the petitioner and her counsel; the Office of the Solicitor General; the Civil Registrar of Angeles City, Pampanga; City Civil Registrar of Calapan City, Oriental Mindoro; the Philippine Statistics Authority; and the Office of the Clerk of Court, Regional Trial Court, Angeles City.

SO ORDERED.

Parlade's loose lips may sink NTF-ELCAC budget for 2022

"WHY DO they tolerate him? Will they sacrifice the entire establishment just because of one of its officers' loose lips?"

So, asked Sen. Panfilo M. Lacson of the the National Task Force to End Local Communist Armed Conflict (NTF-ELCAC) over the ululations of its mouthpiece Lt. Gen. Antonio Parlade Jr. against the community pantry initiative that spread all round the country.

While he believes that the NTF-ELCAC is doing well in terms of developing areas cleared of the New People's Army, Parlade's foot-in-mouth statements threatened all the inroads gained by the government.

"The Armed Forces of the Philippines must remain apolitical. Otherwise, the constitutional balance among institutions is skewed and democratic governance is disturbed and even threatened. Lt. Gen. Parlade should just focus on ending insurgency and fighting terrorism. When he retires, he can debate all he wants on political issues," said Lacson who chairs the Senate defense committee.

Furthering: "Because of his commentaries, the NTF-ELCAC is dragged into controversies. Nauuna ang bibig niya sa kanyang ginagawa. Yan ang danger, kasi nakakagulo na. Instead of helping, his loose lips threaten to drag the NTF-ELCAC into the mess."

A mess indeed, with Parlade even verbally abusing senators for questioning his statements.

"If there is any consolation to the senators of this benighted land, arrogance and idiocy will never be doctrinal among the active members of the noble profession of arms," Lacson said, even as he warned of a growing consensus among senators in the minority and majority "to send a message to the defense department that cooperation is a two-way street."

That message can be in the form of denying the NTF-ELCAC a budget for 2022 if Parlade is retained as spokesperson.

"They (defense department) cannot just keep asking without giving back," Lacson stressed.

To the senator, it would be best if Parlade resigned as NTF-ELCAC spokesperson and "focus on fighting insurgency and terrorism in his remaining months in the military service" as it is "not his mandate as a military man to dabble in politics."

Lest he dragged the whole defense department down the drain.

"Sobrang madada. Hindi na enthusiasm yan," Lacson quipped.

Himala

LAST SUNDAY, I called the multiplication of our community pantries a miracle. In Tagalog, "Himala." I imagine some people reacting and probably quoting Nora Aunor's line in the well-known film by Ishmael Bernal, HIMALA. Remember that scene where she said, "Walang himala! Ang himala ay nasa puso ng tao! Nasa puso nating lahat! Tayo ang gumagawa ng himala!"

If someone tells me that, I would say, maybe you have a wrong notion of miracle. Our problem is we have tended to equate a miracle with a supernatural occurrence that defies the law of nature. We don't realize that the most obvious miracles in our lives are perfectly natural. So, what's wrong with God working through things that are wonderful but natural?

Jesus is saying something like this in our Gospel today. "I told you, but you do not believe. The works that I do in my Father's name testify to me." This is the reason why John consciously avoids the word miracle, even if he implies it when he uses the word "signs." He portrays Jesus lamenting and feeling exasperated about people who are asking for "signs" when the signs that he's giving are already self-evident. They'd rather see him walk on water, or perform what entertainers do in the town fairs like eat glass like crackers or swallow a live chicken.

In our first reading, Saul himself became one of the strongest signs of the workings of the risen Christ. His conversion from a rabid persecutor to an avid propagator of the Christian faith was incontestable. It defied logic; it seemed impossible. But it did happen. People may doubt about what he claimed had happened on his way to Damascus. He did not have to speak about the light that had struck him down, the voice that he heard, how he lost his sight and regained it. In fact, even the Christians themselves doubted him. They were even afraid to come near him.

It was enough to see the radical change in his whole perspective in life. What the evangelists call a METANOIA, a profound change of orientation and direction in one's whole being. A kind of transformation people would associate with losing one's sanity or flipping out. And yet the person remains perfectly sane and functional, except that he seems like a totally new person. Seniors coping with uncertainty

THE UNTOLD fears and sufferings of older adults across the world brought about by the coronavirus is more than anyone could ever imagine. The mental agony they go through seeing people or friends their age or even younger being taken to the grave, not in hundreds but in thousands every day, is a torture in the mind.

I remember my father who passed two months ago, not from Covid-19, but from colon cancer. When he heard about senior citizens' restrictions to go out, the feeling of terror immediately clouded his wholeness. Every single day, for more than 60 years, my father jogged, played badminton, basketball, even at an old age. Henever had a sedentary moment and was very fit. To keep someone like him in a lockdown was like saying to a fish to stop swimming. My dad went through depression quietly and developed the cancer during the pandemic. Although we transferred him to a place with less strict policies, it was too late.

With this, I asked some of my inspiring dearest senior friends, to share their insights. How they feel about our present uncertain moment, a wellness lifestyle that perhaps we can all learn from and their happiness source that fires them up to get going.

Challenged is the word I could think of in our current situation. I don't mind being locked down, I dwell on creativity. I take this time as an opportunity to explore zillions of ideas. For my health, I make sure I have a good diet, an intake of 8 glasses of water daily, walk 12,000-13,000 steps a day (inside my penthouse), Qi-Gong, breathing exercises, daily physical therapy. For my mental and heart health, I chat with friends regularly, which deliver laughter and joy. My advice to everyone, you are not invincible. My happiness is my advocacy – sewing face masks, which was intended for donation to my co-dwellers in my condominium complex. Before I knew it, we've sewn 50,000 facemasks, donated to different part of the world. With

Heresy and metaphor

Lt. Gen. Antonio Parlade, the controversial spokesman of the government's anti-insurgency(translation: anti-communism) task force, has this not-so-enviable knack for getting into political, even theological, knot, every time he opens his mouth, or wields his unwieldy 'culebra roja', as the Chabacano would refer to it.

The latest of which is about his avant garde theory on the pantry concept that is taking many parts of the pandemic-besieged communities in the country by a storm. Parlade perhaps fears this could be a perfect storm that could potentially blow his client or principal out of his comfort zone earlier than scheduled.

He thinks the Devil, or Satan, may have something to do with it, a virtual mental replay of an incident in the Garden of Eden where the Serpent tempted Eve to bite off the forbidden fruit. Parlade believes whoever got the idea of a community pantry must have been given to her by the Devil himself, not exactly on a silver platter.

Parlade got, at least, two things wrong. First off, the 'fruit' was not an apple. It was simply described as "the fruit of the tree in the midst of the Garden". Second off, the Serpent didn't pick the 'fruit' and hand it to Eve. Eve, after buying into the Devil's marketing pitch, helped herself, gave some to her husband, and the rest is a cliché.

In other words, Parlade is engaged in a continuing heresy and it's not easy to tell where he got his fake news. Definitely, not from a Sunday School class. Alexander Pope had long warned that a little learning can be a dangerous thing. Look what Parlade's bet has done on the rising of pantries in the name of communitarianism, not communism as he believes it could be some front of the ideology.

While at it, the Eden Incident is not just about rebellion; it's essentially failure of leadership, an important moral. Parlade can revisit his flawed facts about the Devil and the Apple in the light of the pantry response to the paltry performance of the current administration he serves in the time of the pandemic. Had Adam not goofed off on the job, mankind might have been spared all of its troubles, past and present, COVID 19 and all its adversities, including Parlade's mistaken notion that appearance may not be reality as far as pantries are concerned. The recent call for Duterte's resignation didn't exist in a vacuum. On second thought, perhaps it did arise out of the widespread perception that there is a vacuum in leadership.

He may also discover that paranoia is a tragic offshoot of the Eden bite-taste, usually seen among those who feel insecure about their high perches in society or government where they think might or clout, not right, should call the shots.

In light of Parlade's shot at the bow of the pantry ship, Sen. Leila de Lima has a very interesting theological theory herself. Satan, she said, doesn't leave Malacanang. Whoever thought that the sacred place is the Devil's workshop? Of course, she was just practicing (stretching?) her metaphoric skills. It's an hyperbole, to be exact. Satan as Duterte and vice versa? Nope. That's giving too much credit, or blame, to the Devil for the dire situation that Filipinos are chafing under the pandemic.

Or De Lima perhaps is obliquely saying that the some high leaders in the land are channeling Satan, which simply means "the accuser".

We know where the detained senator is coming from. Her reaction was more visceral than cerebral, emotional than existential. A few days after she pulverized Parlade's concept, she showed signs of cardiac issues, she had to be confined in hospital for three days.

"Never can true reconciliation grow where wounds of deadly hate has pierced so deep", John Milton wrote in Paradise Lost. The instant flash of De Lima extending her hands during Duterte's inaugural State of the Nation address and the latter acknowledging them vividly crosses the mind. It turned out, it was just for a show. Now the real story has unfolded for many years now with De Lima still in languishing in jail despite the alleged lack of evidence and constant pressure from international leaders.

Parlade's continuing red-tagging campaign and public comments about contemporary developments he thinks may be relevant to what he does have earned the opprobrium of the Senate that eventually called for his censure. The guy remains unperturbed. He has even called senators of the realm 'stupid' for proposing to defund the task force is heading over what many say were not only indiscreet but inappropriate mouthfuls for an officer and a gentleman. (Sun Tzu said you don't expect the Army to observe the rules of etiquette). Of course, it was a case of tit-for-tat. A senator started it, Parlade was just too willing to oblige to return the favor.

In the end, it's better to look at the humorous side of Parlade, even if theologically unsound. He may not be on the detail, he's on the bigger picture where the details become a blur. A choice of one will compromise the other. And never underestimate Parlade's philosophical perspective. Like Arthur Koestler, he probably believes also that Satan is a fanatical devotee of logic and reads Machiavelli and Marx, too.

To him, the pantry slogan "from each according to his ability, to each according to his need", may ring an alarming bell. Too alarming, given the rumblings on the ground.

Parlade, however, can try Sunday School, for once. He can reach out to FVR, 93 recently, whose fatherly counsel may come in handy when egotistical overdrive kicks in.

'More lockdowns' nga kaya ang tamang solusyon?

KUNG sa araw-araw ay patuloy tayong animo ay naka-posas sanhi nitong wala na rin yatang katapusang 'lockdown, saan na ang buhay ng dukha hahantong?

Partikular na r'yan itong nasa lungsod ng Quezon, Maynila at karatig pook, na higit ang bilang ng mga hikahos sa buhay kaysa namumuhay sa bundok.

Na mas mapalad ang nasa malalayong lugar sa NCR, na hindi gaanong apektado r'yan ng 'MECQ, lockdown,' sila'y maituturing na ligtas sa gutom.

Kahit kamote lang o anumang bagay na mailuluto, makararaos 'yan sa pangaraw-araw nilang pamumuhay at walang gaanong pinangingilagan.

Pero tayong nasa abot-kamay natin ang lahat na bago magka'Covid-19, kaninong kamay pa ng Diyos maaring makuha ang araw-araw na gastusin?

Maraming nawalan diyan ng trabaho dahil ang dami ring establisyemento ang nagsara sapol salakayin tayo ng ganyang 'virus' na mamamatay-tao.

At hanggang sa oras na ito, patuloy ngang banta sa buhay nating mga Pinoy ang kamandag nito pero di sa lason n'yan tayo mamatay kundi ng sa gutom.

At kung saan kapag wala nang makain ang nakararaming kababayan natin, dahil sa ayaw nga silang palabasin; ano sa tantya n'yo ang maaring gawin?

Tayo mang marahil ang may mga anak, na walang makain at panay ang iyak dahil gutom di mo gagawin ang lahat para makaraos kahit mapahamak?

Di 'lockdown' sa ganang atin ang remedyo upang sa 'virus' ay makaiwas tayo, kundi nang gawan 'yan ng ating gobyerno ng matamang pansin at mas epektibo.

Ang tayo'y umasa sa hindi pa subok na klaseng bakunang dito ipinasok nitong iba't-ibang kumpanya ng gamot, yan sa buhay natin may peligrong dulot.

Disiplina ang siyang sa ating sarili ang dapat unahin upang manatili tayong ligtas laban sa di ikabuti ng ating buhay at kapamilya pati.

At sundin parati ang mga protocol na pinaiiral ng rehimeng Digong ngayong itong 'virus' ng Covid patuloy tayong pinapatay ng taglay na lason.

Pasasaan ba at hindi makahanap ng tamang solusyon sa 'ting paghihirap ang pamahalaan upang itong lahat na ng problemang yan mabigyan ng lunas!

The Clinic Ave celebrates 4th year, offers aesthetic services under P5,000

BY JOANN MANABAT

ANGELES CITY — One of the premiere aesthetic centers in Pampanga, The Clinic Ave, will celebrate its 4th anniversary in May announcing its special promos offering some of its services under P5,000.

Established in 2017, TCA offers a wide range of surgical and non-surgical procedures which includes facial enhancement and body contouring services such as buccal fat removal, chin enhancement, eyelid surgery, rhinoplasty, breast augmentation, and liposuction, as well as laser treatments for facial rejuvenation, Diode laser hair removal, laser tattoo removal, and laser mole and wart removal.

TCA owner Angela Norrdell has been in the aesthetic industry for more than 10 years. According to Norrdell, aesthetic services on both surgical and non-surgical procedures have evolved over time as more options become available and attainable.

“There are more options available now. The industry itself was able to adjust and manage to balance through medical technology as to what people want since most want minimal downtime that’s why we also use a non-surgical approach. If they want something affordable, then we use machines instead of injections or aggressive treatments,” said Norrdell.

Norrdell added although a few of their patients had to prioritize their expenses, the demand for their aesthetic services has surprisingly increased amid the pandemic as some of their patients also had time to have treatments since most of them are working from home. Suitably, Norrdell shared, their patients can take the opportunity on some of its services at a discounted rate for their special anniversary promo.

Here are TCA’s five services below P5,000

1. HIFU (High-Intensity Focused Ultrasound)

A non-surgical procedure for skin lifting or tightening, HIFU uses ultrasound energy to encourage the production of collagen which gives a firmer skin as a result.

Promo price: P1,250 for concerns on double chin and P3,500 for mid-cheek to double chin area. 30 percent off on other areas.

2. BB Skin Glow

The BB skin glow treatment can improve the skin by clearing and unclogging the pores. It also speeds up the growth of new skin cells which makes the skin healthier and brighter, and reduces the impact of skin cell aging.

Some of the noticeable improvements include less-freckles and skin discoloration as it gives a more even skin tone making the skin brighter and more radiant.

Promo price: P1,200 per session including diamond peel, pearl mask, and PDT Light*

3. Sclerotherapy

Sclerotherapy is a non-surgical treatment that has been proven to eliminate varicose veins and spider veins.

Promo price: P1,800 per session

4. Co2 Fractional Laser

A much more aggressive treatment compared to BB Skin Glow performed by its in-house cosmetic surgeon, Co2 fractional laser can treat acne scars, fine lines, and minimize large pores leaving the skin a more permanent result.

Promo price: P4,950 per session

For those who are willing to go under the knife, Norrdell added, TCA also extends its promo to its aesthetic surgeries such as noselift, eye bag removal, and its signature mommy makeover procedures such as breast augmentation and tummy tuck.

Norrdell also noted that TCA also ensures its strict adherence to Covid-19 protocols as all TCA staff undergo regular swab testing to ensure safety and among its doctors, nurses, patients,

Anicia Lazatin-Rivera, 75, Educator, Philanthropist– Philippines

I don't know what to make out of this pandemic. Hence, knowing and understanding the God I serve, He allows this to happen for the purpose of awakening. Just like during the time of Saint Francis, peopleabused the earth, its ecology, trees, water, sky and air. Not even realizing that we abused and took for granted our human relationship with our family, relatives, countrymen and the world. I take advantage of this crisis, to help the less privileged and reflect on my spiritual condition. Bring joy to everybody is my delight, even to the people who don't like you. Physical body is now discovering its limitation. Be realistic to accept your limitation, eat healthy foods, have some morning sun, be happy and safe. Knowing and experiencing the enormous love of Jesus for me gives more than joy.

Aurora Rosalin Alcampo, 71, Artist/Painter –Canada

I feel sad about the overall sufferings around the globe. The deaths, illness, anxiety, loss of job, property, income, freedom, inflicted by the pandemic. It is heartbreaking to lose some of my freedom, to act on things I previously taken for granted for, like visiting my children and grandchildren, travelling, hugging family and friends. For health, I eat healthy, exercise regularly, take supplements and maintain a positive attitude. My suggestion to everyone, follow protocols,be diligent and always put awareness in everything that you do. My greatest happiness are my grandchildren, children, friends and sleep.

Milagros Camille Lacanlale, 77, Medical Doctor, Retired – Los Angeles, USA

This pandemic situation has really scared the wits out of everyone, young and old. I feel like we're at war against an invisible enemy and it's very restricting in all aspects of our lives. My public advice, develop good eating habits by having less salt, trans-fats, red meat dishes, instead eat more fruits and veggies, exercise and have adequate sleep. We should stay home as much as possible and not mingle with a large group of people. Visiting my family here in Los Angeles, going somewhere with friends, brighten my days.

Evelyn Dantes Majarais, 73, Staff Accountant, HR & Finance Supervisor – Canada

Our present situation is sad and frustrating at times. Eating healthy foods to better my immune system, following the safety measures and staying indoors as much as possible is my way of protection. I urge everyone to follow the advice of health experts and believe in science. My joy is when everyone around me is healthy and happy.

Age wrinkles the body, quitting wrinkles the soul. Keep your hopes high and your faith higher. Collective positive thoughts deliver positive results. Together wecan beat this crisis and the root of it all.
